St. Patrick's Church to Build $75,000 School

YANKS FOIL RED PLOT

BUILDING TO GO UP ON LINCOLN ST.

WORK WILL BE BEGUN ON NEW STRUCTURE AT EARLY DATE.

TWO LOTS HAVE BEEN PURCHASED

Board of Trustees Announce Plans After Special Meeting is Held.

St. Patrick's church will build a $75,000 school on the corner of Lincoln and Holmes streets this year.

Work will be commenced at an early date.

Members of the church meeting with the special building committee decided this at an enthusiastic gathering at the parish house last evening.

Two large lots have been purchased, and plans and specifications for a modern two-story, fire-proof school building are now being drawn up.

Location of New School.

The school will be constructed on the corner of the present convent school, where the "long house" is now located. This house and several others on the property will be moved off immediately so excavation can begin.

The present school will be maintained as a convent with several rooms kept for musical instruction and other special work.

The new school will consist of nine large rooms, which will provide ample housing facilities for some years to come. The plans will be drawn so that the building will allow for additions as the enrollment of the school increases with the growth of the city.

The building will be properly lighted and ventilated. A central heating plant for the school, the convent and the church will be installed. Space for a large sized playground will be provided.

Promise Quick Action.

The necessity of a new convent school has been recognized by the trustees for the past year. Now that the city is going to grow they promise immediate action. A campaign to raise money for the project was inaugurated some time ago and will continue on a more intensive basis during the next few weeks.

The board of trustees of the church is composed of Dean E. E. Reilly, D. J. Luby, and Philip Doherty.

J. P. Cullen is chairman of the special building committee. The other members are: Rev. Frank Wittenman, J. Cunningham, J. E. Kennedy, Joseph M. Connors, William Croak, Patrick Connors, J. J. Dulin, George H. Devins, Patrick Kavanagh, Valere A. W. J. Cronin, A. J. Wilbur, M. C. Finley, and W. J. Kennedy.

MANY GOOD JOBS ON LIST FOR WAR HEROES

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Washington, March 28.—Technical culture offers thousands of positions to associates, assistants, helpers, extension workers, and county agents, and this work is particularly suitable for returned disabled men, according to a statement issued by the Federal Board for Vocational Education today.

These positions serve as stepping stones to higher education and better occupation in the near future, not only in the agricultural colleges, experiment stations, agricultural extension service, and in state efforts of raising and other countries has greatly stimulated interest in these lines, and disabled men with a background of agricultural experience are manifesting keen interest in training for the lines mentioned. Many others who, by reason of their disabilities, are compelled to equip themselves in other lines, and preferably for out-of-door occupations, are also manifesting keen desire to take up the specialized branches of agriculture in the training offered by the Federal Board.

RUSSIAN SOVIETS ASK RECOGNITION BY U. S.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Paris, March 28.—A rumor was current last night that the United States had received a note from Premier Lenin and War Minister Trotsky of the Russian Soviet government asking recognition for the government, says Marcel Hutin in the Echo de Paris, today. M. Hutin adds that he cannot say that President Wilson is disinclined to give the request favorable consideration.

Spring Opening Displays Bring Public Delight

(By HARRIETTE WHEATON)

The curtains of the style show lifted at 7:30 last evening before a street audience of men, women and children, numbering far into the hundreds. Merchants who had spent the last two days decorating their windows in artistic style were pleased with the reception given them.

Bluebirds, Japanese artistry, spring bowers, fernery, Roman settings were among the many backgrounds which set off the latest in suits, hats, coats, dresses, men's clothing and shoes, and the wicker chairs of the anxious and expectant crowds passing up and down the streets.

The Bower City band, following a 15-minute concert for the Good Roads mass meeting at the Myers theater, started off the evening's festivities with their opening number in front of the T. J. Ziegler clothing company.

Lights flashed on Boulevard lights were flashed on turning the darkened streets into a scene of carnival. Window curtains in 20 shops were lifted simultaneously. The wicker chairs of the anxious and expectant crowds passing up and down the streets.

Playing before each of the 20 shops where a special display was offered, the band proceeded up the one block on South Main street, thence several blocks up Milwaukee, offering in its entirety a varied program of practically two hours' duration.

Crowds Follow Band.

Holding the mass of the crowds with it or within its sounding vicinity, the band, at each move as it moved, carried a "visible street parade" with it. The ever faithful followers of the band made the trip on the specially conducted tour by Wisconsin Avenue, Milwaukee, and back to the Myers theater in Milwaukee.

The brief air of the evening kept the spectators on the move, filled the crowds with weathery energy, and while not particularly conducive to summer frolics, the display, nevertheless put a special pep in the audience.

Blue Birds Happy.

The blue birds of happiness in Anderson's windows, significantly portrayed the joy of being well dressed, as they stood guardians over a display of attractive blue crepe afternoon frocks, nobby blue serge suits, skirts, hats, and waists.

The Golden Eagle's windows, particularly adapted to display, were profusely adorned with Grecian arbors and benches bedecked with bright flowers. Walking skirts, dresses of silks, chignons, handkerchiefs, shoes, waists, skirts, and over in the corner but far from forgotten were the coats, ties, and gloves that delight the other sex, held their own.

Eastwick's windows backed with Japanese artistry were tastefully "made-up." In the fountain window—the star attraction—were blue and gray dresses, while in the others were gray georgettes, waists, ribbons rich, undersuits and muslins, tapestries and rugs.

Tommy Men's Eyes.

The other Eastwick's, too, tempted the firmer eye with men's coats, ties, and accessories in abundance.

The lone but gay gown of henna colored georgette, bedecked in black stood out as a solitary in the soft glow of the floor lamp in Simpson's Main street window, while hats and bonnets of tasteful patterns marked the Milwaukee street display.

The blue flowered chiffon skirt was one of the original ideas of mode which marked the exhibit of ready-to-wear.

Spartacans Planned to Arm Thousands in A Big Uprising.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

London, March 28.—Action by American troops looking after Russian prisoners in Germany is believed to have nipped in the bud an important bolshevik plot, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Berlin, dated Thursday.

The Spartacans in Spandau, the message states, had planned a big rising for Thursday, intending to arm several thousand Russians from the Ruhleben camp.

The Americans, however, rushed the Russians on board trains Wednesday night and scattered them under the Americans through Germany.

The Spartacans, the dispatch adds, had intended to spring the revolt as a means of backing up the Hungarians in their bolshevik move.

Many Enter Red Army.

Copenhagen, March 28.—The official invitation for recruits to enter the red army in Hungary has met with an encouraging response, according to a Budapest dispatch received here.

The army will be composed first of those who apply from the ranks of organized labor and second of proletarian soldiers already under arms.

The soldiers will elect their officers from section commanders or company commanders but the higher officers will be appointed by the commissary of war. A political commissary may be attached to each body of troops.

A reserve army is also being formed among workmen and will be trained by officers who, however, will not be given the power to command the forces nor the right to carry arms.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Detroit, Mich., March 6.—Six armed bandits shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon held up a branch of the Federal State Bank here and escaped with a sum reported to be in excess of $50,000, after having locked twelve persons, including patrons as well as attaches of the bank, in a vault.

WOMAN IS STRUCK BY ST. PAUL FLYER

Mrs. Sena Jorgensen, an aged woman living at 225 Madison street, experienced a narrow escape when struck by a west bound St. Paul passenger train at the Academy street crossing.

She was taken to Mercy hospital, where an examination disclosed that the extent of her injuries were bad lacerations of the face and head, but no fractured bones nor internal injuries as was first thought.

The passenger train was just starting and the woman, not hearing nor seeing it approach, walked directly in front of the locomotive. She was knocked to the ground and dragged but a few feet. She is resting easy today.

League Of Nations Will Not Prevent War-Lenroot

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Madison, March 28.—That the league of nations as at present proposed will not prevent war, that its constitution does not provide for reduction of armaments, was the statement of Senator I. L. Lenroot before St. Andrew's Men's club of Wingers Park, a suburb of Madison, Thursday evening.

Mr. Lenroot left for Milwaukee Friday morning, where he will speak today. Mr. Lenroot in his Thursday evening address paid high tribute to the "war congress" and emphatically declared that the American troops had no business in Russia.

"These troops should be recalled," continued Senator Lenroot. "They should not be there. We are not at war with Russia. The best way to crush out bolshevism in the world is to let Russia get enough of it. Her example will teach the world of its horrors and failure."

"During the war President Wilson was given every support. Now that the war is over we can discuss matters as they are."

"We in congress gave the president united and loyal support from the first day to the last day," said Senator Lenroot. "Republican members forgot they were republicans and remembered only that they were Americans. This support we gave on every measure asked by the president and needed in the prosecution of the war."

The Road Ahead For Rock County Folks

When we invest our money in a farm, or any other kind of business, it is with the expectation of making it pay, of getting our original capital back with a profit and reinvesting it again with the same end in view—the profitable extension of our business.

It is a singular fact that in all of our investments individual or collective, there is only one form of investment in which we go on paying in blindly without ever expecting to get a financial return, and at the end have in hand the thing for which we have paid our money.

In Rock County the thing for which we pay and fail to possess is the gravel on our roads. "Now you have it and now you don't" as the weather and traffic goes.

Making our roads return the investments which we put into them and at the conclusion of the paying period have what we paid for, with our original road capital free from reinvestment in other roads, is the core of the bond proposition on which we are going to vote next Tuesday.

Viewed in the light of a strict transportation business, we already have on our roads the factors necessary to make them pay. These two factors are farm tonnage and the motor truck. The thing to haul is at Paris, March 28.—A council of the foreign ministers and foreign secretaries of Great Britain, United States, France and Italy has been created to work simultaneously with the premiers and President Wilson, but on different branches of the great technical questions involved in the peace settlement.

This action has been taken in the interest of speed. Japan is not given representation in the new council because its delegates does not include its foreign minister.

It is believed the council of foreign ministers will consider the Italian and probably the Russian question, as well as the feasibility of arranging a peace treaty to include all the belligerent nations.

369,465 TROOPS ON ARCHANGEL-SIBERIAN FRONTS, PICHON SAYS

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Paris, March 28.—The total strength of the allied forces on the Archangel and Siberian fronts is 369,465, according to figures given by Stephen Pichon, the French foreign minister, to the chamber of deputies, last night. The figures as to the nationalities were given by the foreign minister as follows:

United States, 4,000; British, 12,000; Italians, 1,340; Serbians, 1,200; Russians, 11,770. Total, 34,765.

Siberian front: British, 1,000; Canadian, 4,000; United States, 7,500; Italians, 1,000; Serbians, 1,200; French, 7,500; Poles, 12,000; Rumanians, 4,000; Japanese, 27,000; Czecho-Slovaks, 55,000. Total, 94,700.

The total forces of the allies on the various eastern fronts, M. Pichon stated, was 350,000. This total was divided as follows:

French, 140,000; Russians, 140,000; British, 140,000; Greeks, 200,000.

The eastern fronts alluded to by M. Pichon presumably take in the Balkans, Asia Minor and probably the Ukraine.

JUDGE IS LENIENT TO BEVY OF YOUTH BEFORE HIM TODAY

There was a lot of weeping in Municipal court this morning. Six youths, the youngest but fourteen and the oldest but two years his senior, were before Judge H. L. Maxwell.

Three were juvenile cases, "joyriders," they stole an automobile and were caught, the fourth faces charges of burglary, the fifth passed worthless checks, and the sixth got too free with a young lady he did not know.

Both the court and District Attorney Dunwiddie, were averse to stamping the record of a criminal on the shoulders of the youngsters, and a great deal of leniency was given the boys.

Took Farmer's Car
The juvenile court cases came to the attention of the police Sunday night, when the trio stole the automobile of a farmer named Marquardt, while the owner was attending church, and the Congregational church.

Their appearance this morning divulged the fact that the Sunday night adventure was not their first and that they had been riding in the same manner, for close to a month past. Two of the youths were fifteen and the third, fourteen, only the latter having known how to operate a machine previous to their taking those owned by others.

Parents and relatives were in court and agreed to pay the three collars and fifty cents damages for the car Sunday night. All three were ordered by the court to report today to Supt. Hill of the Industrial school and later at such periods as he orders.

Food and Cards
Rummy games and the pool halls, following a financial setback through illness, were held responsible for youthful idleness under the young man's credit. Creditors, he told Judge Maxwell, pressed him for money and so he used the check-book, though having little funds in deposit.

Burglarizes Store
The fourth boy, 15, failed to satisfy Judge Maxwell with his answers and his case was continued for two weeks. He was charged with burglarizing in the night time, the bowing alley, of Henry Robbins on North Academy street. The police recovered between nine and ten dollars in nickels and dimes, and under a pile of stones at the corner of Mineral Point and Pearl street, which the boy disclosed after confessing to Chief Gower.

Must Stop This
Instead of going to a scout organization meeting, as he told his mother, he was the sixth youth run in the streets and town, and when he made advances towards a girl he thought he knew, across from the city hall, the young lady screamed and Chief Gower, who was in the nickles and dimes, and under a pile of stones at the corner of Mineral Point and Pearl street, which the boy disclosed after confessing to Chief Gower.

Teachers Will Hold Sway Here Saturday
School teachers will hold sway in Janesville tomorrow. Fair weather and better roads are propitious for a large crowd, according to Supt. C. D. Antisdel. About 400 teachers are employed in the county, all of whom are expected to attend the annual meeting of the Rock County Teachers' association, which is being held at the University of Wisconsin.

Antisdel to Attend Milwaukee Meeting
O. D. Antisdel, county superintendent of schools, will probably be the only Rock county superintendent to attend the meeting in Milwaukee tomorrow in the interest of the war savings campaign for 1919. Other superintendents will be unable to attend because of the teachers' meeting to be held in this city all day tomorrow.

Edgerton, March 28.—At an informal meeting of the council held last evening at the office of Mayor Leary an effort was made to determine just what streets will be paved during the summer. The streets that the council decided upon are Cedar from Fulton to Main; Henry from Fulton to the depot; West Fulton from railroad to the J. E. Shaw residence; Dr. and Main from Main from Rollin to the bridge over Saunders Creek; Bentley Place from Rollin to Jensen; First street north from Washington street to the end of the city. The amount of paving is estimated will cost $33,000 and of this amount the city will pay approximately $11,000 or one third. The amount paid by the city is to cover interest on the bond and the balance will be assessed to abutting property owners.

Wears grouped about an immense window of the W. F. Brown shop. Passing up Milwaukee street, the shimmery beauty of dainty accessories of women's dress, together with the sturdy accessories of manly dress in the windows at Hall and Huebels; the serviceable suits, the coats, hats, neckwear, and womanly things shown by T. F. Evans attracted their deserved attention.

Hat Displays Attractive.
A neat hat display with a pale lavender georgette creation claiming the most attention in the window at Mrs. Woodstock's, while hats, flowers, and candies in abundance profusely beckoned the passerby to view the Hinterschied displays.

Shoes galore. Many, many shoes of many cuts and shades, among which the satin oxford and satin spat features the latest angle.

Furniture Exhibits Pleasing.
Rich in its simple expressiveness was the bedroom suite of mahogany, "dining" room set, and a "living" room set. While dining tables of rectangular design, and those soft, comfortable living room pieces were expressions of delight at Leath's. The bedroom suite of mahogany, the dining room set with table of round design in brown mahogany made attractive bids for favor as arranged in the windows at the Kimball store.

Not was that all. The auto tires spiked up and span, tickled the ribs of the auto man as they stood forth as though kings of the land in the window display at Sheldon's. Pictures, nut bowls, writing table accessories, together with the wallpaper designs which took many minutes of the thinking of spring cleaning, greeted the paraders at Diehl's.

Last night they gazed from without. Today and tomorrow they gaze from within. All the way to the window anyone to come in and view their stocks. Many merchants not among the 20, who backed the spring style opening, have also decorated their windows and are welcoming their patrons.

The general opinion of these over-beans men seems to be, "Say, I wouldn't miss it for a million but I wouldn't give a nickel for it over again."

THOSE BOND MEN.
Bonding house representatives still continue to be as much in evidence around the city hall as bumps in Janesville's streets. The place is pestered with them (either way you read it will be O. K.). Over at the court house there are just as many seeking information on the good roads bonds as there are at the city hall on the high school site proposition.

GAS MASKS NEEDED.
Chilly winds of yesterday subdued for about twenty minutes and Milwaukee street from Main to Academy was recipient of a smoke screen which for denseness and soot was incomparable. 4,000 ENEMY ALIENS INTERNED DURING WAR

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, March 28.—Atty. General Palmer, disclosing today that about four thousand enemy aliens were interned during the war, said paroles would be granted to some six hundred of the harmless class, others would be repatriated, and 200 dangerous persons would be held indefinitely, including about 200 professed members of the I. W. W., or anarchistic organization whose cases would be referred to the department of labor with a view to their deportation.

MAINTENANCE COST OF CONCRETE ROADS
LOW, SPEAKERS SHOW

The tremendous saving of money effected in Milwaukee county by the building of concrete highways was forcibly brought out at last night's mass meeting at the Alvea theater by C. C. Jacobus, chairman of the road and bridge committee of that county, and Frank W. Whitlow, Milwaukee county highway commissioner.

Frank A. Cannon, secretary of the Wisconsin Good Roads association, and Chas. E. Moore, county highway commissioner, presented the data concerning the maintenance cost per mile of concrete roads in Milwaukee county is only $42 was brought out by the Milwaukee speakers who further stated that it cost them $5,000 to maintain a stretch of 3 miles of gravel road last year.

Mr. Cannon compared the substitution of concrete for gravel highways to that of replacing the old board sidewalks with cement.

"You've got to do it to carry the load," he said. "You can't expect a 2-ton road to carry a 5-ton load. Your roads aren't carrying the traffic load. If they can't do it now what will they do in the future?"

WOMEN WORK FOR SCHOOL BONDS VOTE

That women of the city are thoroughly alive to the need for a high school and are determined to get out and work for the success of the bond issue, is plainly apparent to those who have been working on the women's committee, during the last few days. Everywhere there is a wholehearted response to the calls for service, either in getting neighbors to vote or in serving on committees or at the polls.

In a possible 25 women called on the telephone, yesterday, only one was opposed to get 20 young women and accomplish would not vote.

Several women have offered the use of their cars for election work, among them being Mrs. David Holmes, Mrs. Althea, Mrs. Bridges, Mrs. Pierpont Wood and Miss Ruth Jeffers. Others are promised if they can be gotten ready in time. Those having available cars are asked to telephone to their ward chairman or to Mrs. S. N. Smith. The first ward chairman is Mrs. Starr Atwood; second ward, Mrs. Francis Grant and the third ward, Mrs. H. C. McNaught at the Pritchard residence will take charge of the car service for that ward. In the fourth ward, Mrs. Hopkins and Mrs. Edward Hemmings will be in charge and Mrs. T. P. Egan and Miss Elizabeth Patterson will attend to the campaign in the fifth ward. Those women desiring transportation to the polls are requested to send their names and addresses to the ward chairman.

Some interesting phases of the situation is being developed, and from the determination of certain ladies to vote and to get other women to do it, it looks as if voting parties would be the fashion. Many have signified their intention of filling their cars with neighbors and taking them to the polls to vote. One young matron has offered to get 20 young women and accompany them to the booth. Another has promised to get five immediate relatives of her family and see that they women vote for the bond issue.

The third ward has been well organized under the leadership of Mrs. Abbie Helms and Mrs. Helen McNaught, and is the first to present a complete list of its workers at the polls on election day, for publication. The plan as outlined considers two-hour shifts for the women, and two women outside the polls and one in the polling place, from seven o'clock in the morning until seven at night. During the shopping hours, from three until five, two women will be in the voting place. The list of workers is as follows: From 7 to 9, inside, Mrs. Mary McNaught, Mabel Greenman and Alta Fifeid; from 9 to 11, inside, Mrs. David Holmes, outside, Evelyn Kalvelage and Mrs. Ralph Soultman; 11 to 1, inside, Mrs. Emerson outside, Mrs. L. Levy and Mrs. Herbert Ford; 1 to 3, inside, Mrs. C. Muggleton, outside, Mrs. Roy Wisner and Mrs. A. Bauman; 3 to 5, inside, Mrs. A. Allen, and Mrs. J. P. Cullen; outside, Mrs. Howard Smith and Mrs. Frank Bunt; 5 to 7, inside, Mrs. Geo. Jacobs, outside, Mrs. Louise Nowlan and Mrs. Katherine Carle.

Most of the women's clubs and church circles have been addressed during the past week and have responded wholeheartedly to the appeal for votes.

WATER MAIN WORK PROGRAM IS MADE

Extensive installation of water mains will be made by the city this year and yesterday afternoon at the city hall took a draftsmanship work drafted the first of its schedule of street work for water works extensions. This will be reported to the next meeting of the council for action. It was stated today that the result of yesterday's meeting was but a part of the entire amount of work contemplated and that other extensions additional water and main work would be provided for in early meetings of the board.

So much work entailed in the selection of the most feasible selections of the city for the laying of the mains that no time could be given to the matter of sewer. Early action on this important matter is promised, however.

The schedule as drafted by the board yesterday for water main extensions is as follows: Hickory St. St. Marys Ave., to Benton Ave.; Fourth Ave., Caroline to Cornelia St.; Yuba St., Walker to Marys Ave.; Ringold St., Ruger to Racine St.; Racine St., Logan to Ringold St.; Ruger Ave., 175 ft. east from Ringold; First St., Main to Bluff St.; N. Bluff St., First to Main south to Court St.; From pumping station south to Western Ave.; Western Ave., Franklin to Academy St.; High St., Holmes to Western Ave.; Park Ave., Washington to Western Ave.; Chatham St., Mineral Point Ave. to Highland Ave.

Additional main extensions will be made on Hickory North and South Bluff and North Western streets. This is work ordered by the council last year.

WELSH FOR MAYOR.

T. B. Welsh, candidate for mayor, has come out in the open as regards his stand on city administration of affairs which will affect the development of Janesville. He has declared that he favors the city council keeping pace with the progress that is assured. At the same time he advocates a safe and sane policy in spending the taxpayers' money.

Mr. Welsh declares that not only must a high school be provided which will have the facilities for properly educating the pupils now crowding the present buildings, but we must build for the future. He is far-sighted enough to realize that other residents must be made to contribute to the campaign for economical expenditure of funds that will be needed for those municipal utilities at once, as well as in the future.

Mr. Welsh points out that the increase in assessed property values by July 1, as the result of the tendency of Janesville to grow, and the present demand for property which for years has been a drag on the market, will also be paying for city improvements which must go forward without delay.

During his tenure of office as alderman of the Fourth ward and chairman of the finance committee, Mr. Welsh has demonstrated that although he has been keen to safeguard the interests of those who have to pay the city's bills, he has been broad in his efforts to have the city roll in the foreground of progress. He has declared that he will be mayor of all the people and not tie himself to any clique, faction or class. The future mayor of Janesville will be compelled to how closely to the line in this regard, for if the city is to successfully embrace the opportunity at its door, every move or progress must be made with the constant thought in mind that co-operation is paramount. The community spirit must be encouraged and the city administration should be the leader in that effort.

Mr. Welsh puts the school bond issue squarely up to the people. When the question of raising money for the purchase of a site came before the council, Alderman Welsh insisted that the matter be left to the voters. He calls attention in his platform to the fact that the question of site is up to the school board; that the school board, with the counsel of representatives of the city and other civic organizations, chose the Main street site as the best obtainable. He stands firmly behind the attempt to provide adequate school quarters as quickly as possible.

Not only should Mr. Welsh have the endorsement of those citizens who believe in the future of the city and are alert to its opportunities, but those members of the present council who are seeking re-election should have consideration. It would be a mistake to send any man to a seat in the city's administrative body who does not have the vision to see Janesville as she will be one, two, or 20 years from now. The council should be composed of men who are courageous enough to stand stoutly behind improvements needed now and as the occasions arise to provide for future development in the most economical manner.

The men who can only see Janesville as it was a year ago, five years ago or 25 years ago will not fit in with the scheme of things which are coming to pass.

Election looms near. Next Tuesday the voters will have the opportunity of marking ballots which will determine the city's future policy. If those men who stand for a bigger and better Janesville are defeated it will be an indication that we are not ready to take our place among the communities which seek to move ahead. If they are re-elected, voters a long step will have been taken along the road of progress.

Your vote Tuesday means more than it has meant in past elections. It means either a decision for prosperity or a step backward along the path of reaction.

THE SCHOOL SITE.

It is evident that the only opposition to the $50,000 school bond issue is on the Main street site. If the issue is beaten it will be on that account. Many of the voters are of the opinion that the people should choose a site. Under the law, the school board has the authority to make the selection, and the council to appropriate the funds. Both the school board and the council went a step farther than that. The school board called in members of the city council, chamber of Commerce, and other civic bodies and thrashed the matter of a site out to the satisfaction of all. The board got the opinion of expert engineers and after the whole matter was gone over thoroughly a unanimous decision was made.

That the school board has acted fairly in the matter, no one can deny. It has the power to choose a site and the council has the power to furnish the money for its purchase.

Those who oppose the site chosen by the board of education have not suggested better locations. They have offered no solution to a problem which everyone admits exists and which must be solved without delay.

The geographical center of Janesville is near the county jail, at South Second and Park streets. The site selected for the high school is a little over a block away. Can any one beat that for a central location which could be obtained for the purposes desired?

The high school should be at a central point, for those institutions are being used more and more as community centers, where they are built with good auditoriums, the public goes there constantly, and the children have them for their various activities both nights and Saturdays. If the school should be located on the outskirts where the people will not go, it, half of its value as a community center is lost. Why should we have an expensive and commodious building idle when it could be used if properly located?

VOTE FOR ROSENBERY.

Justice Rosenberry of the supreme court should not have opposition as his candidacy for re-election. His record in the short time he has been on the bench qualifies him for a full term. Another candidate has entered the lists and while not considered a strong contestant, will perhaps poll a comfortable vote. He is Julius Dithmar, brother of the lieutenant governor, an assistant in the attorney general's office and lined up with the La Follette faction. His bid for the office is made primarily as far as can be learned, on his desire to sit on the supreme court bench. The Dithmars have been in politics for a long time and they are satisfied to make it a business.

Judge Rosenberry has been tried and has proven himself a thoughtful, fair, big-calibered man and lawyer. He has added to the distinction of that august body during his term of office. He is safe in that capacity and he should be the choice of those who believe that the courts should be kept out of politics.

Dithmar is comparatively an unknown quantity. It would be better not to break up the present personnel of the highest court by sending a man to the bench who is untried.

Every voter who believes Rosenberry should be returned should cast a ballot for him to offset those votes which are bound to be cast for Dithmar.

Hats off to Janesville women! If the school bond issue is defeated at the polls, Tuesday, it will not be the fault of the women. They have organized and are carrying on a campaign to win the election. They have the welfare of their children at heart and are not going to let any sickening over who should select a site prevent them from fighting, to the last ditch, any attempt to prevent their children getting their education under best possible conditions.

Announcement is made that Secretary Baker is going to Europe for a few weeks. He probably will attempt to "touch" President Wilson for enough money to run the war department until congress can again appropriate funds for energetic secretary so hastily turned back to the treasury to make a showing for the administration.

Well, we can draw another sigh of relief. The Anti-Saloon League has come right out in public with the statement that it will not attempt to interfere with smokers. Full up, boys!

Gen. Mangin gets into action against the bolsheviks they will at least know, when hostilities finally cease, they have been in a fight.

ROY E. MOULTON

IN THE SWEET DRY AND DRY.

(From the Public Prints in 1922.)
Grandma Perkins was placed under arrest yesterday by the village constable for making gandelion wine. Experts claim that the wine grandma makes is 9 per cent wine and 91 per cent kick. Grandma is an old-fashioned woman who never believes in doing things by halves. Three plates of the hideous concoction were confiscated and two members of the vigilance committee, who sampled it, have been sent to the psychopathic ward for observation.

Mr. and Mrs. Abner J. Terwilliger have been placed under arrest for having in their cupboard a bottle of fermented catnip. It went off just like champagne used to, and the report attracted the attention of the officer in the street. The defense was that they didn't know the catnip was fermenting, but this was held to be no excuse. They left for Sing Sing on the 12:17 for an extended stay.

Now that there is to be only one-half of 1 per cent "kick" in the beverages at all banquets, the banquet speakers will have to put a little more kick in their speeches. Useful to be that any kind of a speech would make a hit after 10 o'clock.

THE TEARDROP.
A star drops softly from the sky. In the hush of dusk, out of the blue. It is God's teardrop, from on high. For He has disappointments, too. —Doris Kenyon.

A Bolshevik is a guy who sticks his head in an empty rainwater barrel and yells.

United States court has just held that a Jewish law is not a musical instrument. It sometimes takes a court a good many years to find things out.

WHERE IT REALLY BLOW.
A bunch of cattle belonging to Alvin Karpis got caught in the field when the blizzard came last week and he had a two-days' job getting them back into the corral. The wind had whipped off the tails of two of them. —Whipped River (Neb.) Interests.

We are not a music critic and we like most forms of the divine melody. We like it when Nora brays and when Alma glucks, but we have a large test tube of cyanide of potassium for the gentleman who wrote that immortal lyric, "I've Got Flat Feet. Oh, Yes, Indeed. Flat Feet of Great Renown. My Feet Have Been in Every Flat in This Yere Town."

News report says the former kaiser looks old and broken. It might be worse. He might be old and "broke."

TOUGH.
"I'm all out of luck," muttered Officer Mace.
(And I had to agree he was right). I headed a raid on a Turkish bath place.

And, "Gosh, it was gentlemen's night."

By EDGAR A. GUEST

DEMOCRACY.

He thought the world a lonely place. He growled about the human race. And thought that crowds were vulgar things.

And not worth while to know. He wanted men of high degree. Always to share his company. And so he spurned the humbler men Who daily come and go.

He could not see the fellowship That lies in every friendly grip. He never paused along his way To talk with humbleness; He thought the only friends worth while

Were men of pomp and power and style. And so he sought the worldly great. And worshipped their success.

But few men rise to wealth and fame. And few the distant heights may claim. Who wants to sharp the pomp of kings.

Must tread a lonely way. Who spurns the pleasures common-place. The glittering joys of life to chase. Must miss the daresies at his feet. Where all the children play.

He'll miss the charm of friendship true. The deeds that kindly people do; He'll find the world a dismal place. Who lives alone for fame.

For all the joys that poets pen. Are in the breasts of humble men. And he is rich who finds a friend. What'er his rank or name.

So do not hold yourself afar. But walk where all the people are. Rejoice in every smile you see. And share in every song. You'll find the world a happy place. And lit by many a smiling face. And warmed by many a kindly heart. If you will but be strong.

BALLINGTON BOOTH

Gen. Ballington Booth of the Volunteers of America is, touring the country to look over local work and examine sites for a Volunteer home. In a recent interview given a newspaper representative he lauded the passage of the prohibition amendment, but warned that a substitute for the saloon was yet to be found.

Gen. Booth was born in England and is 50 years of age. He is a son of the Rev. William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army. He was commander of that organization in the United States from 1897 to 1934, when he resigned and founded the Volunteers of America. He has since been president and general in chief of this organization. His home is in Blue Point, N. Y.

Little Time Left to Pay Tax Arrears at City Hall

Janesville's total of delinquent taxes slipped below the three thousand dollar mark today as City Treasurer George W. Muenchow continued his preparation of the rolls for the county treasurer. Yesterday was a poor day, but this morning the total in arrears was lessened considerably by the receipt of a good-sized check. At the rate the work is being completed the rolls should be ready for the county the first thing Monday morning.

K. OF C. TO INITIATE LARGE CLASS IN MAY

Carroll Council Knights of Columbus at its meeting last evening made tentative arrangements for the initiation of a large class here the second Sunday in May. Following the conferring of the degree work there will be a banquet with many prominent speakers on the program.
Up to date over forty local candidates have submitted applications for membership and it is expected that the total to take the degree work from here alone will be between sixty and seventy. Enlarging the class will be candidates from Whitewater, Monroeville, Delavan and Beloit and numerous other southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois cities.

MILK--The Cheapest of Nature's Foods

Dame Nature, in her wisdom, has provided Milk as the staple—the universal and economical—food for all mankind. Placed on a comparative basis with heavy foods, it is cheaper than beef, veal, pork, potatoes, beans, and a score of other articles used for daily food.
In these days of high living cost and food conservation it behooves everyone to cut down on their supply of meats and other heavy foods and DRINK MORE MILK.

Indispensible to Health in Young and Old

For growing children pure, rich milk is an absolute necessity. It contains all of the elements necessary to healthy, vigorous growth and development. It is a bone-builder and tissue-builder. It nourishes and builds up the body, makes for keen intellect and is particularly helpful to children in their school work.
But do not look upon Milk as merely a food for children. It is equally beneficial and healthful in adults alike. Get the habit of drinking a quart of good, pasteurized and clarified milk EVERY DAY and note how you'll improve in health.

News Notes from Movieland

By DAISY DEAN

A new western star has been discovered, not in the heavens, but on the screen in the Golden Constellation. He has a combination of the fairbanks smile, the Hart bad man, the Alce realism and the Farnum physique. He is not going to specialize as an acrobat or athlete nor is he going to always play the bad western hero. He is going to be a comedian and his specialty will be western comedy-dramas.

Louis Bennington is the name of the new ranger who will star under the Golden Constellation banner. He is new to the films, but has had much success on the stage. He starred for two seasons in New York and on the road in "Johnny, Get Your Gun." Previous to that he was recognized for his excellent portrayal of the doctor in "The Unchastened Woman." But despite these parts Bennington may be called a distinctly western personality.

He was born in California and joined the Anchor-Jiff outfit, a big California ranch, as a boy. For five years he rode the range and the largest salary he received in that time was $25 a month. It was here that he learned the life and the language of the cowboys. When he left the outfit he joined a California stock company and from western stock companies he finally drifted eastward until he hit Broadway and then the footlights to the Cooper-Hewitts was set.

His first picture has already been released and is called, "Oh Johnny." He is at work now on his second, "Sandy Burke of the U-Bar-U."

HILL'S GONE AND DONE IT

Take his picture from your bureau and put it away, for Bill Desmond is about to take a honeymoon trip to New York with Mary McElvor as the blushing bride.

the romance, it is said, commenced soon after the death of Mr. Desmond's first wife, known to the stage as Gertrude. Mrs. Desmond was the sister of Nance O'Neill. Mr. Desmond was married to Gertrude at the death of his wife, who was the leading woman, brought him a measure of comfort, and it was not long before Desmond's Irish heart responded to the charm of Miss McElvor. Soon the two were quite inseparable, and while reports of the engagement have been made from time to time, Mr. Desmond up to this time has denied them, stating he would never marry again.

"Peggy Does Her Darndest," the latest play in which the irresistible star, May Allison, will be seen, is a glittering story of enticing youth—sparkling with love and humor. It tells the story of a young mad-cap who is the despair of her conventional sister, the joy of her father and the conqueror of a mere man who finds it impossible not to fall madly in love with her. How her tom-boy athletic training comes into vital use and in the end makes her the heroine of the family, is thrillingly shown, and her romance which runs through the scintillating play is of the appealing kind which goes to the heart of the observer.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have many freckles, light and dark, and am always getting more.

What is the very best freckle lotion? I never expose my skin to the sun. This is a serious matter, for all my happiness depends on getting rid of them.

DISCOURAGED.
Freckles are most difficult to remove. The following paste has proved beneficial in many cases of stubborn freckles:

Oxide of zinc, one-half dram; sublimed bismuth, one-fourth dram; dextrin, one and three-quarters drams; glycerin, one and one-half drams.

Spread the paste upon the freckles at night before going to bed. In the morning remove with a damp cloth. There is no absolute preventive of freckles. However, by way of protection before exposure to the sun or wind, rub in a good cold cream, wipe with a soft cloth, and dust over with a good toilet powder.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young girl 18 years old. Last spring I fell in love with a young man 20 years old. Later he joined the army. When he went to camp he had his picture taken. I asked him for one and he had an excited and didn't give me any. Later I found he had given one of my girl friends one. I told him about it and he denied it. He has also broken other promises to me. I love him very much and he has told me he loved me.

DOUBTFUL.
Continue your regard for him as a friend if it gives you pleasure to him. If he had loved you he would have wanted you to have a picture.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young woman of 23 and I love him very much. I have been with him for three years and he is too bashful to propose. I know it is not right for a woman to know if he would like to marry me but does not know how to about it and I am ready to marry him.

Anyone who is able to tell me about his love affairs to his men friends is not so bashful that he could not find a way to propose. Leave the matter to him and he will find a way if he really loves you.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 22 and in love with a soldier boy. I know he loves me because I get a letter from him every week with a five-dollar bill in it. How should I thank him for the money he sends me?

BLUE EYES.
A girl should not accept money from a man. Keep track of every dollar he sends you, and upon his return make him a present of his savings. Do not keep the money no matter how much he urges you to.

A Dolman Is The Wrap For Spring

By ELOISE.

The summer girl will favor the cape and dolman. These two styles of wraps are particularly suited for wear with crumpled spring and summer frocks. It seems strange that fashion dictators must renew such perfectly comfortable and becoming fashions.

One would think that once introduced they would never need renewal. They are without a doubt the only correct wrap for the coming season.

This graceful coat of dolman sleeves is fashioned of solid colored fabric which resembles tricotette but has a finer weave. It is trimmed with bands of old blue and has a shawl collar which lies in the back.

Stiffening—One can crumple two tablespoons butter substitute, two tablespoons chopped celery, one-eighth teaspoon paprika, onion edges of steak, pour over it stuffing, roll and tie, and lay on onion and carrot in pan with suet on top. Pour water on stock into pan and cook, closely covered, for 20 minutes or more in hot oven; then uncover and cook 30 minutes longer.

RECIPES FOR A DAY.
Flank or Round Steak Stew—One pound round or flank, one-half inch thick, one-half cup carrot, cubed, two or three small slices suet, one onion sliced, one cup boiling water.

Stew—One cup onion, two tablespoons butter substitute, two tablespoons parsley, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon onion juice, two tablespoons chopped celery, one-eighth teaspoon paprika, onion edges of steak, pour over it stuffing, roll and tie, and lay on onion and carrot in pan with suet on top. Pour water on stock into pan and cook, closely covered, for 20 minutes or more in hot oven; then uncover and cook 30 minutes longer.

Poppy Turry Salad—Mix cold cooked potatoes, string beans, peas, carrots, lima beans, cauliflower, asparagus and shredded raw cabbage, any or all, and serve very cold on lettuce with salad dressing or mayonnaise.

Potato Soup—Stir into browned fat two generous tablespoons flour or enough to take up fat—stir constantly until it is well browned, when it should be in little lumps. Just before serving pour in four cups of milk and cook five minutes or a little longer. A little chopped parsley added just before serving will be the first improvement; if parsley is not to be had try a little celery salt. This is a delicious, satisfying and inexpensive soup. Quantity given serves four generously.

Squash Pie—Line a plate with crust and fill with the following mixture: Two cups steamed squash put through sieve, three or four eggs, one and one-half cups milk and one-half cup cream, top milk, one cup sugar, one teaspoon cinnamon, pinch salt. Beat eggs, add sugar, salt, cinnamon and squash. Mix well. Add cream and milk (scalded). Mix well. Fill pan. Bake slowly 30 minutes. This makes two pies.

Buying Bacon—When you are buying bacon always look at the rind. You will find that the best bacon has thin rind, with the fat a pinkish white.

My little thesis-savioze and my little toize-wozies are as comfy-womfie as anyfings," replied the young woman. "What did she say, professor?" asked little Rollo.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

Mrs. Elizabeth Neff of Cleveland, Ohio, died even seven years ago that she knew the first principle of Americanization. She not only decided that she knew it, but that she would apply the principle to the foreign-born of her city and thus started the "Girl Home-Makers." According to the theory that the American home is the first principle of Americanization, the club was started with twelve girls of five nationalities. The object of the club was to teach American home-making to foreign girls.

Mrs. Neff held that the reason so many girls detested housework was because they were practically taught to dislike it. Instead of encouragement to "play house" and imitate mother in the kitchen, they were told to "run away and not bother." And often household tasks were given as punishment.

Therefore the little foreign girl who had not been reared with the same notions will think that housekeeping with convenient appliances the most delightful game in the world.

It seems as if Mrs. Neff was right for her little club of girls has grown to over 200 and there are other "Girl Home-Makers" now in other cities of the country. The first girls of 6 years old join the club.

They learn to make everything themselves. They have a doll family to live in the house and these little foreign girls learn to make clothes for this family of dolls in an American way and they wash and iron the clothes also. The next year or so finds them in a new club, which uses a read bed big enough for a six-year old to use. They then learn to wash and scrub, wash and iron, set a table and cook a meal. They are also taught to eat properly.

As they go on from year to year they learn to clean silver and brass, mend needles, make new clothing, rugs and bedding, to can fruits and vegetables, bake and cook, and to take care of a baby, wash, feed and sew for it. When the girls are graduated they begin a "hopa chest" which they fill with beautiful linens and linens, the work of their own hands of dignity and art of home-making and has given them something to look forward to through their factory days, for most of these little foreign girls are factory workers.

Mrs. Neff hopes to see a "Girl Home-Makers" club established in every city. She is very prominent in many kinds of social work in her city where her husband, William Bryan Neff, is a judge. Mrs. Neff has written several books and many articles on her work among the foreign girls.

ARGENTINA'S FIRST
Senora Julietta Lanteri, de Renshaw, a physician, has announced her candidacy for the chamber of deputies as a representative from the city of Buenos Aires. She is the first woman candidate for parliament in the history of Argentina.

WHAT THEY'RE DOING
Women in Oregon have their wages regulated by a state law, which gives them a minimum amount of wage.

During 1918 the number of women factory workers throughout the country nearly doubled.

Women outnumbered the men in graduates from the Leland Stanford university, which is the first time in the history of the university.

The success of women in general hotel work, particularly in the clerical departments, has led many of the fashionable apartment houses in New York city to install women as managers and superintendents.

SIDE TALKS —By— RUTH CAMERON

THE PEOPLE WHO WON'T TELL.
"She's the sort of person," said Molly, the little stenographer lady, "that you wouldn't be afraid to tell things to for fear she might fall out with you sometime and then tell them round."

Molly was talking about a friend, of whom despite the fact that she has no very brilliant qualities, she has always been very fond. "She's so dependable," Molly had said, and then had given this illustration of her dependableness.

And after that, I didn't wonder that Molly found her worth counting among her list of friends.

When Friendships Change.
There are so many people to whom one is afraid (if one stops to think in time) to tell anything one doesn't want made public property, for just that reason. Sometimes, then, one does not stop to think and then one is in danger of doing a good deal of foolish thinking later. When friendship is changed by the chemistry of misunderstanding or of changed ideals or perhaps of better understanding, into dislike, the dislike is apt to be of a most active nature. Under these circumstances it takes very strong inhibitions of honor and justice and decency to prevent the possessor of secrets from using them to wound and hurt the object of dislike. Or if there is no real hate and actual intent to injure or wound, there may come in the course of years, a loose-mindedness which the claims of friendship kept in restraint but which, after the passing of the friendship, makes ducks and drakes of your confidences.

I can write with a good deal of feeling on this subject because I have some of those afterthoughts myself. One of the proverbs which I try very hard to keep in mind when I am in that dangerously confidential mood with some friend whom I have not known long enough to be sure that she has these fine inhibitions, is, "Of the unspoken word thou art master, but the spoken word is master of thee." Another thought which inevitably rises to the surface in this connection is what a fine thing it is to be on self-exercise for broken pledges.

Take This Tip From Me

Note the difference between these two tips. In the wire-wound broom often the finest, softest ends of the fibres must be trimmed off in order to make the tip even. Therefore, the harsh part of the fibres left to form the tip, make-it stubby and inclined, to spread—the fibres break and the tip quickly loses its shape.

Little Polly fibres—strengthened and toughened by the Kem-bath Process—are measured to exact length before being built up into the broom. For this reason, the fine, soft fibres need not be sacrificed by clipping them away. Little Polly's full, beautiful tip wears straight to the handle. Ask your dealer or write to

Janesville Baseball Team To Get Started At Meeting Saturday Night

By George McManus.

CITY IS NOW ASSURED OF AN A1 CLUB

Two more players called at The Gazette this morning and expressed a desire to become a part of the new Janesville baseball team. They are Axel Peterson, a pitcher, and William Lohman, a batter. They were told to report at the special baseball meeting at the Gazette editorial rooms Saturday evening at 7:30.

(By K. L. EAGAN.)
Janesville's own baseball team got started today.
Warren Schauer, formerly backstop for the Belvidere (Ill.) club stepped in as the nucleus of the Janesville club, and expressed his willingness to act as coach and scout for the team.
Several other candidates for the team showed up, and a meeting at set for Saturday night at the Gazette office. All ball players are invited to be present. Definite plans will be promulgated and no time will be lost in weeding out and picking a nine to represent the city.

Jim Scott On List.
Beloit, with "Death Valley," Jim Scott, former White Sox star; Zabel, former Cub crack, and others will be ticked pink to meet Janesville when Janesville is ready. And when Janesville is ready, there may be some history written.

Janesville is going to have a REAL baseball team, better than ever before, irrespective of cost or pains. This city has long been prone to look upon baseball—locally—as impossible. This was because Janesville never had a real team. With the real Janesville spirit, and backed and inspired by the fans, which make the world's greatest pastime possible.

1919 Biggest Year.
Things will be different this year—the biggest year baseball has ever seen.

Ball players—amateur, semi-pro or professional—where within a radius of 50 miles from Janesville are urged to communicate immediately with the Gazette baseball editor. Quick action is necessary. Let's travel.

HITS

N. Y. Ball Bill Advances.
Albany, N. Y., March 28.—Hopes for Sunday baseball in New York grew brighter today when the Walker bill was reported favorably to the Senate committee. It was placed on the general orders calendar.

Ratner Winner in London.
London, March 27.—Austie Ratner, United States army, defeated Ray McCormick, a British middleweight, in a fifteen-round boxing contest in the Holborn stadium tonight. The fight was hotly contested, but the American proved the better and cruttier boxer.

Dundee and Ertle Signed.
Mike Dundee and Johnny Ertle, bantams, have been matched by "Peasantry" Schibler for a ten-round bout in Rock Island on April 3.

Jake Kilrain Ship Builder.
Boston, March 27.—Jake Kilrain, heavyweight hero of the bare knuckle days is working on the night shift as a ship fitter here in a big plant.

Bradley Hogg Quits Game.
Bradley Hogg, a Philadelphia National who had retired from baseball, Ray Morgan is still a hold-out.

Taborski Outplays Lew.
Rockford, Ill., March 27.—Frank Taborski, pocket billiard champion, defeated William Lew, 501 to 179, in four frames yesterday and today. Taborski won this afternoon 125 to 21 and tonight 125 to 40.

—RIDE ON CONCRETE—
BICK 12, BARRIAGE 4; NEWMAN 4, SPOON 1

Bick's diamond stars won from Barrage's nine and Newman's team defeated Spoon's crew in the first games of the indoor baseball league played at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon in the high school class. The employed boys' class will take up the sport tonight.

Grubb and Gidley on the mound for Bick's nine, while the two winners of the first game, Barrage and Newman, pitched for the other team. Barrage pitched for a good many hits and was touched for a good many runs. The final score was Bick 12, Barrage 4.

Fisher's slabwork held Spoon's nine to only a few hits, while a run was scored off from Newman, who performed as a pitcher. This game ended Newman 4, Spoon 1.

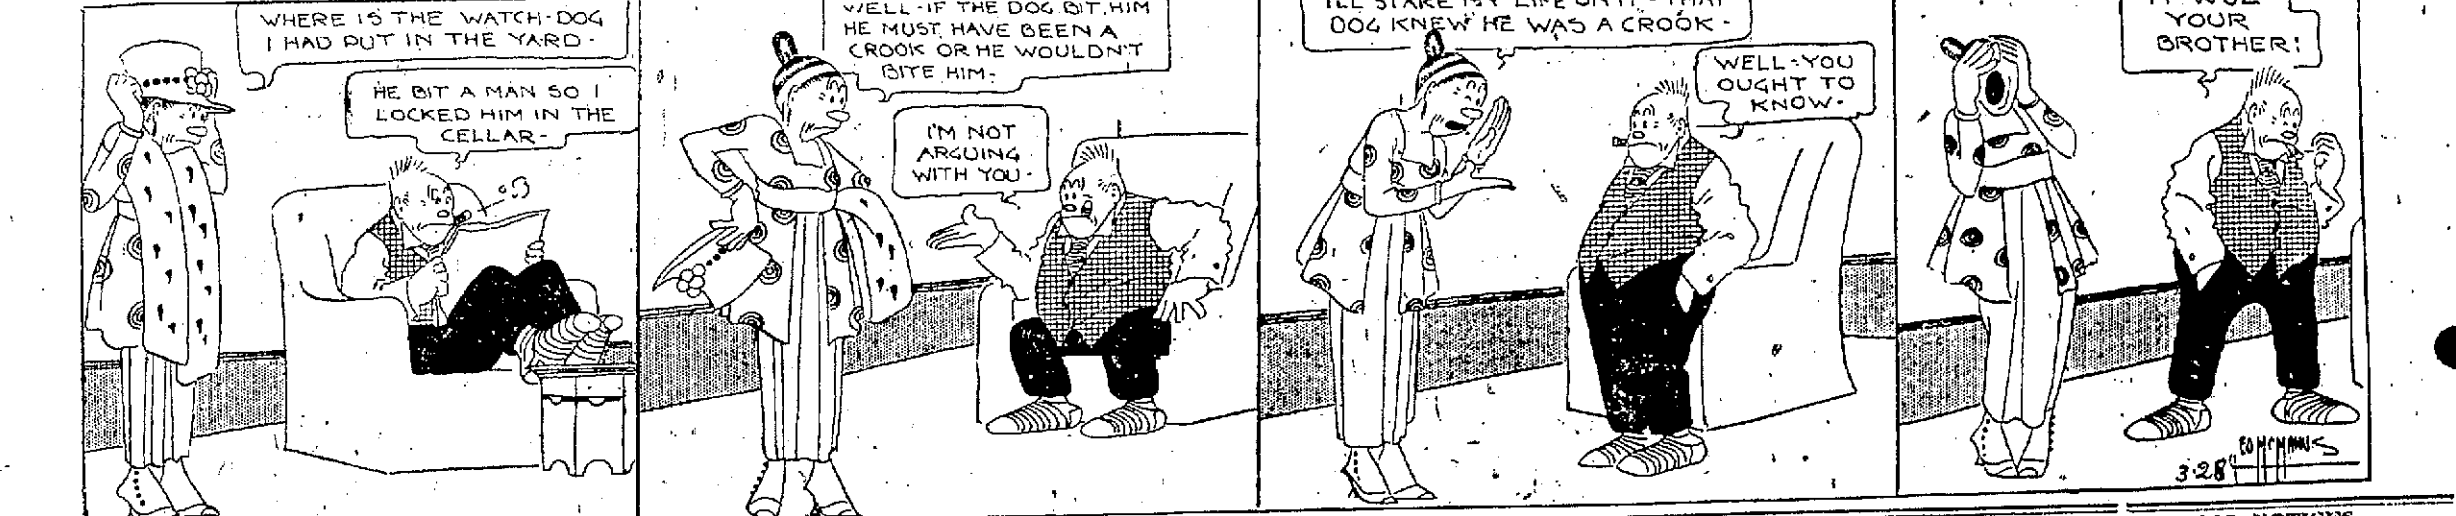

Games in the future will be four innings in length, instead of three as was at first planned.

9 WINS, 5 DEFEATS, RECORD OF CITY'S HIGH SCHOOL FIVE

With a record of 9 victories and 5 defeats, Janesville's high school basketball five, ended its season Saturday in a blaze of glory by trimming Beloit high school to the tune of 18 to 11. The season was one of the most successful that a local high school team has ever experienced, and one that has done credit to the city of Janesville for its splendid playing and clean sportsmanship.

Coach Crabtree proved an ideal director and a coach whose advice was carefully heeded by the entire team. Much of the credit for the team's success lies in his hands, for in every instance he proved himself to be a crack coach and a good sportsman.

Sprackling Most Consistent.
Captain Sprackling was the most consistent player on the five and out of a total of 330 points made by the quint, scored 150, a record well deserving praise. Out of 87 chances at free-throw shooting, he made 53, a fine record. Without a doubt he was one of the best players in the state and even earned a berth as all-tournament guard at Whitefish Lake, Wis.

Nuzum, holding down a forward position with Sprackling, counted 42 points, and his baskets were all made just when they were needed. Near the close of the season he was shifted to a guard job. His best playing was evidenced at the tournament at Whitefish Lake, where he showed at the Beloit game, where he is a clever dribbler and an all-around good player.

Rood in First.
Rood, a new recruit from Monroe, broke into the limelight by playing his first game with Edgerton in which he counted repeatedly. With his consistent play, Captain Sprackling, who had been playing center in at forward position, was shifted to the pivot position. He counted 91 points during the season, mostly in his first games. His shooting fell down toward the close of the year, but he displayed good floor work.

Hager, in the few games that he played, scored 44 points. He showed up unusually well for a new man. Much is expected of him next year. Fisher, holding down a guard job, proved all that could be expected. While small and light, he was exceedingly fast and held down some of the fastest forwards to few forwards. He made one basket during the season, but was a sticking guard.

Powers, his mate, rung up five rings and was a most aggressive player. In the game every minute, he proved to be the idol of the local fans. His pep and speed, combined with his fighting spirit made him one of the most valuable men on the five.

Throughout the season, the squad changed continually in the number of new men who appeared for practice. McKern, McDermott, McClay and Allen all had stints. A. Z. Zimmerman acted as manager of the team and had charge of the financial end.

In four of the five games, the margin for or less points. In only one game were they completely outclassed and that at Freeport, where they ran up against a gang of local fans. Two of the contests were lost at Whitefish by small margins. One of the most galling defeats of the season was at Edgerton, where they lost by one point. The crowning success of the year was the beating of Beloit in two games, a feat which would have made the team considered successful, in the minds of many, had they lost all others.

The five did not enter the Milton tournament. The team scored 330 points to their opponents' 237. The record of games follows:

Janesville H. S. 21; University H. S. 25.
Janesville H. S. 22; Edgerton H. S. 17.

SPORT SERIAL

(BY K. L. EAGAN.)

Janesville wants wrestling. Not from the hundred or so loyal mat fans who jammed the Myers theater stage and sprinkled themselves about the house Wednesday night on this conclusion be drawn—not from attendance figures, anyway. But from the enthusiasm displayed by the few who did see Young Demetral flop big Jim Sampson in two straight falls within an hour in this verdict derived. Demetral is a clever wrestler. He should be meeting better men than Sampson, whom he floored in four minutes for the second fall with a head lock from which the big boy had as much chance escaping as a highball in August.

The little tornado—Demetral—is willing to return to Janesville within a few weeks and take on any wrestler at 160 pounds. And he added that he might make Janesville his headquarters. This gives this city a chance to gain a place on the wrestling map, and promoters should be making bets.

Ted Hagar is lining up his All-Stars for three or four more basketball games, before opening the baseball season. Hagar says he'll have a good team to put on the diamond, and will make announcement of the line-up before long.

Employees of the editorial rooms, business and composing departments of the Gazette will cavort on the diamonds at Fair grounds Sunday with one big idea in mind—to form a nine to represent the best sheet in southern Wisconsin. "Charley horses" should be as plentiful on Monday as lager at a wake.

"Baseball a trust," cry headlines in eastern newspapers, quibbling before the District of Columbia supreme court in the Federal league suit. If so, there's plenty of satisfied victims.

—RIDE ON CONCRETE— BRONZE CROSSES ARE OFFERED TO "Y" MEN

As an incentive to more interest and better work in all activities, the Y. M. C. A. is offering bronze crosses to members who attain 50 points. Already about 20 youths are competing for the crosses and more will enter the race soon.

Points are given for getting new members, getting them to come to gym class, for acting as leaders or serving on a committee, refereeing, and taking part in drills and exhibitions. Two point citations are made by Physical Director Craig.

INDIAN LAD, GRANDSON OF RED CLOUD, IS LOOMING UP IN SERVICE ATHLETICS

Charles Morse, a full-blooded Sioux Indian, whose Indian name is Akichipa Okshela, is now in training at the U. S. shipping board's Atlantic Air Corps training base at Boston. He is prominent in the athletic life of the station, being captain of the track team and a member of the swimming and basketball squads. He is a grandson of Red Cloud and a grand-nephew of Sitting Bull. He recently completed a course at Carlisle.

LOCAL FIVE PUT OUT OF A. A. U. MEET AFTER HOT BASKET CONTEST

Cassidy, Kober et al. were eliminated from the Central A. A. U. 135 pound basketball tournament at Chicago last night when they lost to the fast St. Paul team, 21 to 10, in the opening game of the tourney, 28 to 24. Playing as the Janesville Y. M. C. A. team, the local bunch received but little sympathy from the 1,800 rosters in five field games, the men who handle the affairs of the congress believe the tournament is over as far as first money winners is concerned.

The greater part of today's schedule will be occupied by bowlers from Detroit and South Bend, with the latter in the majority.

Tonight's tea schedule is somewhat of a variety, teams from eight cities and towns competing. Bay City, Saginaw, Akron, Columbus and Cleveland are the first squad. Following are the leaders:

The Gospel

By REV. W. W. KETCHUM
Director of the Evening Classes,
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT.—For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.—Rom. 1:16.

The gospel of which Paul here speaks he defines for us in I Cor. 15:3, 4—"how that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures; and that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the Scriptures." This makes clear that the Gospel contains three great facts: First, that Christ died for our sins; second, that he was buried; third, that he rose again.

But we should note the qualifying phrase, "According to the Scriptures." None of these facts of the Gospel is to be interpreted apart from the Scriptures; so, if we would understand them, we must turn to the Scriptures to see what they say about them.

Summing up the teaching of the Scriptures concerning the death of Christ, it is evident that somehow, in a way that we may not fully comprehend, Christ's death upon the cross was a sacrifice for sin. We read: "The Lord hath laid upon him the iniquity of us all" (Isa. 53:6); "who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree (I Pet. 2:24); that he "put away sin by the sacrifice of himself" (Heb. 9:26). It is not necessary that we should fathom all that this means; it is enough, if we know that our sins have been atoned for by Christ's death on the cross; that "he is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world." (I John 2:2). This, then, is the great fundamental fact of the Gospel, without which there is no Gospel.

The second and third fundamental facts have to do with the burial and resurrection of our Lord; and again we must interpret these by the Scriptures, for the qualifying phrase is, "According to the Scriptures." Now, it takes no prolonged study of the Scriptures to find out the facts concerning the burial and resurrection of Christ. They stand out so prominently that one soon discovers that the Scriptures teach that the dead body of our Lord was taken from the cross and buried in the tomb, and that our Lord in his body, which was dead and buried, arose from the tomb. This may not be the idea that some have of the burial and resurrection of Christ; but we must remember that our qualifying phrase is not, "According to our ideas," but "According to the Scriptures." They and they alone are to determine and to interpret these facts for us, and whether we understand them or not, it is nevertheless true that the Scriptures teach the bodily burial and resurrection of our Lord. Again, we would say that it is not necessary to our understanding of the Gospel that we fathom these facts; it is enough for us to know that they are facts, and that they are fundamental to the Gospel.

Furthermore, Paul says of this Gospel, that it is the power of God unto salvation. No wonder he is not ashamed of it. If it were an impotent thing, he might well be; but, since it is a divine dynamic, there is no need of being ashamed of it. We may not understand how it can be the power of God unto salvation, but that is of little moment, if it is his power to save men from sin and does save them.

It is not necessary, however, for us to rest upon Paul's statement that the Gospel is the power of God; we can test it ourselves. Now that which will prove whether or not the Gospel is powerful unto salvation is to do that which will enable it to do its work. Paul plainly states what this is when he says: "The Gospel of Christ is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth." That which enables the Gospel to do its work in our lives is our belief in it, for just as it is necessary to make a connection with the dynamo, if we are to have its power, so it is necessary for us to make a connection with the Gospel if we are to experience its power in our lives. The connection is faith in the Gospel, and it is therefore important that we understand just what Paul means when he says "to everyone that believeth." There is no mystery in this, for belief here means just what it does anywhere else, that is, the acceptance of a fact as true. The Scriptures, however, make it very clear that in the acceptance of the facts of the Gospel as true one is to accept them as true for himself. It is more, then, than simply believing that the facts of the Gospel are true historically, or that they are true for others. Those of course are included when one believes in the Gospel, but that faith which makes the Gospel the power of God unto salvation in one's life is to believe it as true for one's self.

Tales of the Friendly Forest

A few days after the two little rabbits had escaped from the wicked wolf, as I told you in the last story, Billy Bunny was hopping through the Pleasant Meadow, clippety clip, tip-tippy tip, and by and by he came to the orchard. And right beside Old Snake Fern was a great big cherry tree just loaded down with nice ripe fruit.

"Oh, dear me," said the little rabbit, "I wish I could climb a tree like Squirrel Nutcracker. I'd get some of those lovely cherries to eat, and some to take home to mother to make a cherry pie with!"

"What's that you said?" asked a voice close at hand, and when the little rabbit turned around he saw his old friend, the Circus Elephant.

"Let me pick some for you," said the kind big beast, and he reached up into the tree with his long trunk, and before long he had picked maybe a bushel of cherries. Wasn't that kind of him?

So the little rabbit filled his knapsack and his pockets, and even his little khaki soldier cap, and after that he climbed up on the elephant's back, but of course the elephant helped him up with his trunk, and then they started for the Old Briar Patch. Well, sir! As soon as Mrs. Bunny, who was sitting on her front porch mending holes in Billy Bunny's stocking, saw all those cherries she was just happy as a clam at high tide, and she started right away to make some cherry pies.

"You stay and play with Billy Bunny," she said to the elephant, "and pretty soon you'll have a feast of pie."

"Ha, ha, ha!" said the elephant big. "I can eat more than a hungry pig. For there's nothing so nice as a line of cherry pie."

So hurry, Mrs. Bunny, while the sun's in the sky!

Well, while she was in the kitchen, the great big elephant and the little rabbit played Jack Stones on the front steps, and after they grew tired of that they went around to the barn to see the Old Brown Horse, who had come to make Billy Bunny a visit. He liked to live close to the Pleasant Meadow, you see, where the grass was green and the chestnut tree kept him cool when the sun was not, for there wasn't any tree in his own grass lot.

"Hello," said the elephant, and he took off his little hat and bowed to the Old Brown Horse. And this was very easy for an elephant, you know, for he is always bending his head up and down and the end of his trunk has a nimble finger to pick up things with.

"Oh, I'm very well," said the Old Brown Horse. "I like to be near Billy Bunny, for he and I are great friends, and now that my master has an automobile, I have little to do but eat and sleep. And then he began to sing:

"Oh, an automobile with its whizzing wheel
Is kind of a roadway now,
So I'm turned out to graze these sunny days,
Except when I'm hitched to the plow."

WHAT We Think of the 7% NOTES

When The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company's $3,600,000 issue of 5-year, 7% Notes was put on sale at the Securities Department, Public Service Bldg., Dec. 18, the price was fixed at par for cash, to all buyers alike.

An exception has been made to this rule.

A few days ago the Executive Committee of the Employees' Mutual Benefit Association asked the management to set aside $200,000 of the Notes to be bought by E. M. B. A. members, at par but on a ten-payment plan.

The management agreed to do this, provided that there shall be no payroll deductions, that all subscriptions shall be strictly voluntary, and that none but E. M. B. A. members can buy on installments.

Under the plan adopted, E. M. B. A. members can subscribe for a $50, a $100, a $500 or a $1,000 Note, pay for it in ten equal monthly installments, draw 7% interest on the payments—payable when last installment is paid and Notes delivered. In case of need we can get our money back any time before the last payment is due.

A good many of us had already bought some of the Notes. We knew of no better or safer way to make our saved money earn more money. This ten-payment plan will give a thousand or two more of us a chance to fatten our pay checks with some of the 7% interest.

The $50 Note pays $3.50 a year—$1.75 May 1, $1.75 November 1.

The $100 Note pays $7 a year—$3.50 May 1, $3.50 November 1.

The $500 Note pays $35 a year—$17.50 May 1, $17.50 November 1.

The $1,000 Note pays $70 a year—$35 May 1, $35 November 1.

You collect interest by clipping coupons—the same as on your Liberty bonds—and taking them to the nearest bank.

You get your principal back in cash November 1, 1923.

If you need your money before November 1, 1923, bring your Notes to our Securities Department and we will put them on sale.
